

“Wake Up the Gardens” Volunteer Workday
Sunday, March 26th, 12 to 4pm CDT

Friendship Botanic Gardens needs your help!

We’re gearing up for another spring season, and we need dedicated volunteers to help us get our 105 acre botanic park ready for another year of amazing experiences. Help the Gardens grow by joining us for the annual “Wake up the Gardens” Volunteer Workday. Our team needs community members to help with tasks like weeding, raking, and clearing debris. This is an exciting opportunity to take part in the ongoing revitalization of an important part of Northwest Indiana’s cultural heritage.
