New Safety Information on City Website

Michigan City, IN (December 22, 2003) – The Michigan City website has two new brochures available that address safety issues.

Mayor Chuck Oberlie said, "Creating a safer community is one of the goals of the City Team. Providing safety information is just one of the actions we take in reaching that goal. I encourage Michigan City residents and visitors to read these new safety brochures and learn more about being safe in their homes and on our streets."

"Winter Fire Safety Tips for the Home" includes information on safely using kerosene heaters, wood stoves and fireplaces. "Understanding Work Zone Road Signs" provides descriptions of road signs typically seen in areas where road construction is under way.

Both brochures can be accessed through "City News" on the front page of the city's official website, www.emichigancity.com.
