Michigan City Police Department Welcomes New Officers

Michigan City, IN (January 14, 2004) – Michigan City Police Chief Gene Simmons announced that four new officers were sworn into the department on December 1, 2003.

Probationary Officers Daniel Anton, Christopher Froehlke, Robert Grant and Mark Raymond were sworn in during a ceremony in the Michigan City Council Chambers at City Hall.

Chief Simmons said, "They're all going through in-service training through the Training Division and doing real well. Sgt. Sue Harrison is in charge of the Division of Professional Standards, and she reports that the probationary officers are all doing an excellent job of learning how to be a professional law enforcement officer."

The four new Michigan City Police Department officers will be assigned to shift work in the near future, accompanied by field training officers.

The Michigan City police force is now at 90 officers with just four vacancies.
