

Friendship Botanic Gardens to Host Free Easter Egg Hunt

On Easter Sunday, April 16th, Friendship Botanic Gardens will host a FREE afternoon of egg-hunting adventures among 105 acres of nature trails and formal gardens. Kids ages 0 to 12 and their families are invited to walk the trails and explore the blooming gardens while searching for hundreds of eggs hidden throughout the grounds. The hunt starts promptly at 11am CDT and runs until 1pm (or until all eggs have been found.)-- rain or shine. Be sure to bring your own basket for this "Egg-stravaganza" of Easter fun.

Kids can also check out phase one of the ArcelorMittal Children's Garden, a newly installed arena for interactive nature-based play experiences created thanks to the support of the ArcelorMittal corporation.
